Monday December 5, 1870. Railway Petition Deputation.

The Governor was interviewed on Saturday by a deputation who wished him to exercise his influence to get the terms of Confederation amended, so as to make Victoria the terminus of the Railway, or at the very least to have a railway constructed between Victoria and Nanaimo, as a part of the overland route. The intersievers, as might have been expeated, got no encouragement; for the very good and sufficient reason that the petition had a weak point

PETER CARGOTICH, in it. If it had been stronger,-if it had said Terminus or nothing-His Ex- Coal! Coal! Coal! cellency would not have ridden so high the Canadians doing better if they were to buy out everybody's interest in the Colony, rather than name the terminus in the terms. An argument, like a ON AND AFTER THE 5TH INST., THE UNDERsigned will sell Coal at the following Low Rates; chain, is no stronger than its weakest point in the petition was the expressed willingness of the signers to take Confederation, either with or without the terminus. Who could expect the Governor or the Canadian Government to disturb or alter in any way the terms of Confederation, when the parties asking them to alter the terms, took precious good care to acquaint them before hand that they would accept the terms whether altered or an-altered? The Governor will take no risk. All he wants is to see Confederation accomplished, and bid the country "good morning," caring little whether good or evil should occur to this section of the Colony, after his departure, in con-sequence of no amendment to the terms. And when the petitioners have not insisted that he shall take a risk - have not insisted on making the terminus a sine qua non, need we wender at his refusing to endorse their petition, except by putting on its back such a memorandum as the following: "Pay no notice to this petition, as it is only from five or six hundred Victorians, who notified me that they would take Confederation anyhow." The true and only position for Victorians to have occupied was to have said: "The rail-road ferminus or nothing." If the people on this Island had said that; if the four Island representatives had said that same are representatives had said the same, we would get the terms amend-ed and the terminus here. If, however, a terminus be brought to Burrard Inlet. and snother to Puget Sound, Victoria will be completely isolated. The Puget terminus will build a large town, with large stock of goods, and with a larger population be a more attractive place than Victoria. Next, Burrard Inlet will supply all the interior of the Colony, as well as Nanaimo and the North West will do well by giving J. S. Drummond a cell, who proposes to sell at reduced Rates for cash. Also well as Nanaimo and the North West will do well by giving J. S. Drummond a cell, who proposes to sell at reduced Rates for cash. Also Warres. coast. Then Victoria will live on a few farmers, and off of a few vessels that may rail here for orders or be weather-bound Victorians consult your own interests whilst it is time; or Confederation without a railway will make you a second rate village of British Columbia, instead of the first city. Now you have power,—by and by, if you let it slip through your finders you will have none will be gers, you will have none—you will be gigencies of trade required it. His Excellency said that the petition appeared to him to be in some respects ridiculous, not to say greedy. Why not leave the question entirely in the hands of the engineers. He also sald that it was only the other day that he heard from the Canadian Government that the terms arranged must be adhered to; and if this Colony should amend them, the Canadian Government would claim the same right, and sorted stock of commence the negotiations anew. In conclusion, he said that for his part he was amazed at the concessions that the Canadian Government had granted, and if it were in-sisted that the road should be brought across the Straits, there might not be any road at
